

Mair Matthewson VSW046

I did three shifts for about seven or ten years perhaps and then these do-gooders, if you want, came – it was too much they said – they didn't want women to do shift work, right?, they weren't supposed to do the night shift and the women had to just do two shifts then – mornings and afternoons, but the men did three shifts, see.

But you felt that was wrong, did you?

Yes at the time, I wasn't willing at all.